

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair Broadcasting should not be allowed to use public airwaves free of charge for its own political bias and, when they do, their license should be revoked. This is a clear instance of big business bullying people into serving the interests of big business, which is rarely the interest of the public. Your mandate is to protect the public interest. I encourage you to do so.

In general, it's clear that we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. The license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
